In Paris, Ping An confirms interest in dual MGA-Insurtech expertise

CAAREA hosted a working meeting in Paris between Ping An, a major player in the Chinese insurance market, and SCOR.

This meeting confirmed what CAAREA has observed in the field: the MGA/Insurtech model promoted by the company is now attracting the attention of international players.

The meeting provided an opportunity to compare the realities of the European and Chinese automotive markets, hear the banking perspective of Benoît Millard (Crédit Agricole Personal Finance & Mobility), and share feedback on affinity insurance and mobility in Europe.

CAAREA also demonstrated how AI, at the heart of its solutions (presented with its partner François Bossière, Polynom), accelerates time to market and service quality. Ping An was particularly interested in how European partners can support Chinese manufacturers, both through niche expertise and dedicated technological tools.
